Methodologies for Teamwork in Eco-Outwards Research

18 & 19 May 2026 | ore 9.30-17

Campus Novoli - D4, aula 004

Via delle Pandette 35, Firenze

Target: All PhD Students

The Horizon project METEOR and the collaboration between Prof. Gray and T&LC have led to the creation of the seminar with the aim of rethinking doctoral education as a collaborative rather than an individual journey. Doctoral studies are often experienced in isolation, yet teamwork is essential in most professional contexts, especially beyond academia.

During the workshop, participants will learn how to establish and manage Peer Mentoring Groups, experience group dynamics in practice, and begin developing research and innovation proposals following EU-style templates and evaluation procedures.

This workshop is an opportunity to explore how teamwork can transform the doctoral journey into a shared path of personal, academic, and professional growth.

Il breve percorso riconosce 2 CFU.
